As the final pages of our four years together at Randolph are at last assembled, there dawns within us the realization that although we have missed for this little while your guiding hand, it has been the spirit of your inspiration that has presided over our every accomplishment, that has stood with us as with every senior class until the last memory has been recorded.

In recognition of this inspiration, we, the seniors of Randolph High School, together with uncounted seniors of the past, humbly dedicate to you MISS PATRICIA GALVIN your ORACLE.

Principal of Randolph High School

A MESSAGE FROM OUR PRINCIPAL...

TO THE CLASS OF 1958:

To write a message such as this is a very difficult thing to do, as it obviously infers the end of the very pleasant association of the past six years and my memories of this class will always be on the happy side.

I would like to have you leave Randolph High School with this thought in your minds. Even though for many of you, graduation means the end of your formal education, whether you continue on in school or not, learning, as such, never ends, and each one of you will grow mentally in proportion to the effort you put into your endeavors. Success is a thing we all reach for, regardless of our field of endeavor; success is not easily obtained, since it always means hard work, even to doing things that are difficult or unpleasant. It's all part of the job. I believe one of the marks of the successful man is his willingness to do things which no one else will do.

So, to each of you, I say, do your very best, put your faith in God and may life hold nothing but the best for you.

HUBERT F. GILGAN,
Principal.

MR. THOMAS L. WARREN
Superintendent of Schools

...AND OUR SUPERINTENDENT

Congratulations to you, your parents and your teachers upon the successful completion of your public school education. All three groups are worthy of commendation, for it has been the teamwork of all which has culminated in this happy occasion.

The measure of success which you will enjoy in your chosen field of endeavor will greatly depend upon the degree to which you have applied yourself to your high school studies, and also upon the effort in the years to come.

The world into which you are entering contains great opportunities for those of you who are willing to persevere in your efforts and to forego the temptation of outside pleasures until you have diligently worked to prepare yourself for your life's work.

This is the challenge to you—to prove to all, and particularly to those of us who know you, and who have faith in you, that you and your fellows are capable of great accomplishment, sufficient indeed, to raise our country and the world to a better standard of living, of peace and of happiness.

I wish you all Godspeed, and remember always, we are ever ready to help you whenever possible even though you are no longer students of the Randolph Public Schools.

THOMAS L. WARREN
Supt. of Schools.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE SENIORS

WILLIAM J. LYNCH
Asst. Supt. of Schools

To the members of the Class of 1958: This publication of the Oracle will have special meaning for you through all the years to come. It will be peculiarly your own book, a record of your achievements at Randolph High School, and a pictorial presentation of the activities in which you and your friends have engaged. This year marks not only the completion of a significant unit of study for you, but the launching of your career into another setting, when you will seek to apply the knowledge you have gained and the skills you have developed for your own best self-realization and in the service of mankind.

We have pride in your accomplishments and faith in your future. You will render the best service to your school if you carry its ideals of learning, Virtue and Faith in the ultimate goodness of life, which should become characteristics animating your entire course of action.

Randolph High School now puts its future into your hands, confident that you will maintain a high degree of loyalty to your school, and that leadership in a critical generation is well placed in your hands.

This message conveys my warm personal regards and my abiding good wishes to you all, always.

WILLIAM J. LYNCH
Asst. Supt. of Schools.

A VE ATQUE VALE

As you stand again on my threshold, seniors of 1958, where once you stood four years ago, ready now to take the knowledge and experience I have given you into a bigger school called life, let my voice be the first to salute you, the last to say goodbye. I, your Alma Mater bid you the final hail and farewell.

Amidst the multitudes of middle-aged men who go about their vocations in a daily course, determined for them in much the same way as the tie of their cravats, there are always a few who thought once to shape their own deeds and alter the world a little. As this senior class passes through my doorway and steps into a world bathed in the eerie light of passing satellites, do its graduates realize that they must not waste their time with introspective thoughts as to what they can accomplish? Do you, my graduates realize that the accomplishments begin now with every forward step you take?

In the light of the recent advances which have taken place in almost every area of human progress, the senior of true perception arrives at the conviction that imitation is ignorance. I, your Alma Mater, ardently hope that you of the class of '58 will not be molded after the average, that you will seek to rise above unthinking masses and direct your lives that you may in some way contribute to a world that gave you life.

I remember you as the freshmen who fancied yourselves the epitome of maturity, who believed that you had reached the culmination of your education. Now you realize that your high school career is but one important phase of your learning process. Be eternally grateful to your educators for having been part of the molding of your future. Strive, in my name, to cultivate and to preserve the high ideals given you so unselfishly here.

Leave my halls and classrooms, but never my standards. You are my sons and daughters, my product and my pride. Where you go, my name goes with you—bear it well.

RICHARD VOGEL, '58

The Oracle Says....

"THANK YOU"

It was a cold day in January when Mr. Gilgan, letter in hand, brought us the sad news. Miss Galvin, guiding star of The ORACLE for so long that no one had the slightest knowledge of its inner workings, would not be able to return to school in time to direct the 1958 issue. A "crash" program went into effect immediately: old files were rifled, new ideas recruited, all seniors marshalled, and the battle was on. Three months behind schedule.

Now as we sit back to read our finished product, a little proud, a little apprehensive, a very lucky senior class extends warm thanks to the teachers who helped us fight the war against time and inexperience. We know that as much of their enthusiasm and hard work is between these covers as there is of our memories, ideas and aspirations. For helping us to assemble the threads of four long years into a yearbook that is truly ours, we say thank you to:

Mr. Gilgan, first of all, for the complete backing, encouragement and confidences he gave us. Without him, there would be no ORACLE.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tierney who spent interminable hours over ads, pledges, bills and receipts, who taught us our "sales manners," recorded our debts and our assets, engineered our cake sale, helped us to make more money than we ever dreamed possible and then treated us to a "coffee hour" of celebration when our quotas, and strength, were at an end . . .

Miss Mary Lou FitzGerald who took over the entire set-up of the book, met with photographers and printers, arranged for pictures, edited all the written material, chased us to classes when we had given up our lives to meet a deadline, and sent us, rejoicing to press . . .

To Miss Winifred Brennan who put at our disposal the entire efficient operation of her department along with her own invaluable advice on such matters as letters, bills, lists, typing, duplicating, records, and all the thousand and one aspects of business that we could never have done alone . . .

To Mr. Samuel Polio, whose creative genius is a never-ending source of wonder to us, and inspiration to our staff, for the encouragement of his magic touch, the help of his unique ideas and those many indefinable details that have resulted, we think, in one of the most original yearbooks Randolph High has ever seen . . .

To all of you, THE ORACLE says thank you.

AN OPEN LETTER...

Randolph High School
Randolph, Mass.
June 1958

Dear Mom and Dad,

Here we are at the fork in life's road. Here our path - yours and mine until now - begins to split.

Now I must begin to carry my own load of responsibility and moral obligation. To make room for it, I must dispose of some of my dependency upon you. Ahead I see a world full of promise of success and joy. I also see some shadows but I'm not aiming for those. If and when they confront me I must deal with them myself. But then, you stood at the same fork in the road and saw the same world not too long ago yourselves, remember?

I do not fear what lies ahead for me because you have prepared me well. The home gave me love and trust; the church, faith; the school, knowledge; and all gave me experience, pride, and loyalty. You have been assisted by my teachers in developing me completely so that I may overcome any obstacle put before me. One thing I have learned is that learning never ceases and must be with me everywhere. You have taken the world and improved it for me and I must now improve it for others. I can no longer follow in your path, but I must find my own, perhaps beside you, perhaps not, and help you bear the responsibility of man to God and to mankind. If our paths do not traverse life side by side, our goal is the same; the fulfillment of this responsibility, and there we shall meet again. No matter how far apart we may be, nothing can sever the bond of love and trust between us.

And so we take our leave, but remember all I do or become will be for you and our posterity.

Proudly,
Your Senior of 1958

To These We Looked For Leadership

The philosophy of education in Randolph High School stresses a preparation of each student for the role of citizenship he must assume when he leaves the classroom behind. One of the first and most precious responsibilities we will face is the selection of our own political representatives. We feel that our years of training have not been wasted, that we know what qualities to look for in our leaders of the future, that we have proved our growing maturity of judgment by the seniors we have chosen to lead us here.

Randolph High is proud that it has produced, not only students who have proved their ability to choose wisely and follow well, but also students who can lead wisely and represent well.

SENIOR CANDIDS

"The Future Is A Convenient place For Dreams"

It is the year 1978. After a hard Congressional session, we have been released from our secretarial duties to The President of The United States, Ralph Simmons, and are set for a well-earned vacation in our home town.

As we climb aboard the luxurious airliner of the future, filled with expectations of surprise awaiting us ahead, we are greeted with the first surprise of the mall: Our two stewardesses, Janet Swanson, and Edie Scorrentino, classmates from the good old days. But this is just the beginning! Delighted, we discover that our plots are Richard Vogel and Joseph Caulfield, and that the designers of this fabulous T-2-8 jet, cruising the skies, are none other than our well-remembered friends, Ken Knox and Phil Rud-dick.

Of course McNeil Airport, named for Don McNeil, is no longer a surprise after his famous jet pilot record; but as we leaf through the magazine, FASH-ION, in its glamorous waiting room, it is a pleasant shock to find Valerie Trischetta smiling from the cover, and credits to the designing genius of Beverly Vaughan, George Sullivan and Frank Roberts on the inside. How far our class of "58" has come!

Suddenly an avalanche of teenagers descends, screaming on an oncoming taxi. You might know! Jackie Walsh, the rock'n roll king! We are nearly suffocated, climbing in beside him. Jack tells us of the good work Kevin Wallace is doing as mayor of Boston, especially in the choice of industrial engi-neers for his superhighway construction program.

Some of the names make us proud again of the graduating class we once knew: Bruce Johnston, Robert Bustard, Carmen D'Amelio and Daniel Duffy.

At our hotel it is another classmate Walter Went-zell who greets us and shows us to our room. As an executive there, he arranges passes for us to the Green Sox—Blue Jays Game, that afternoon. We are really thrilled because Jimmy Fitzgerald has been getting such wonderful publicity for his managing job and the pennant contenders remind us of trophy days at RHS. Look at that roster: First base, Armand Lienard; 2nd base, Don Dixon; 3rd base, Dave Merrick; Pitcher, Fred Boomhower; Catcher, George Reynar; Outfielders, John White, Joseph Garvey, Richard MacDonald and Paul Daly.

We are ready for home, but first there is a big reunion at the James Larson TV show. His first guests bring us right back to the good old auditori-um; "The Harmonizers"—singing sensations, Ann Gulick, Peggy Alden, Janet Keddy and Ann Johnson. The Olympic awards for Women's Sports are an-nounced, and we cheer when Carol Monti and Joan Vaughn appear to accept them, conducted by their glamorous TV hostesses, Rosemary Hayward and Carol Hetherington. We aren't the only alumni who have come to share in the honors of our old class. Dianne DeBoer and Paula Fern, still in starched white uniforms, have dashed over from their nurs-ing assignments with congratulations. A whole sec-tion of highly successful-looking career girls, wear-ing mink coats and Randolph buttons, come pouring out of the studio to say hello. We become happier every minute to find how many dreams of "58" have come true, as Mary Jane Brennan, Sandra An-derson, Jane Crompton, Nadine Ahlfont, Cynthia Cutler, Jean Fenton, Marie Lambiase and Barbara Hanrahan swap stories with us of their secretarial successes in Boston.

We are glad to bring the news about classmates in Washington who, due to the pressure of govern-ment jobs, couldn't get away. Margaret Leahy, Perry DeFelice, Charles Kadrevis, Peter Poehlman, and James Cadematori, members of the College Club in the nation's capital, have really gone on to suc-cess in top secret work.

But it is Randolph we want to see, so good-bye to our classmates in Boston. As we board the bus, it seems good to have Stephen Pineo announce "Ran-dolph, Avon, and Brockton", and, later, to wave to Neil Condlin and Frank Tower as they direct traf-fic down by Howard Johnson's.

It doesn't seem possible that so many changes have come to Randolph. Down along Main Street the signs now bear names which are at once new and familiar. Scannell's Music Co.—good for Dennis! Magnussen's Dinner! Well, we can eat nowhere else! Paul has hired Margaret Camelio as his pert and pretty waitress, and it is she who points out Mary Webber, Pat Kemmit and Barbara Jacobsen in a corner booth. We are astounded to hear that we all are leaving Boston on the same plane, but Mary, Pat, and Barbara are stopping off at New York to record their newest record "Tommy". They look so lovely that we take their advice and drop into Ann Jablonski's Hair Stylist Studio right after supper. More celebrities Elaine Burns, Barbara Stone and Joanne Smith have just landed local TC spots and are all excited as they pretty up under the expert management of Joyce McKeeman. Carol Cederholm has the next appointment but her hours as president of the bank are so long that we can't wait to see her. Knowing she has Richard Caron, Harold Ledig and Sheila Smith as trusted executives, we aren't worried about her success anyway. We can't wait for the morning and our first visit back to our well-remembered high school.

John Collins and Richard Walsh, who work for the Evans' Brothers Radio and TV store now, warn us that things are different at the old school. Roland and William's store is showing a closed circuit broadcast of the Boston Premier of the "Ice Frallettes" and we stay to watch with our eyes like saucers as Kathleen Hanson, Julia Keane and Jeanette McNulty flash across the screen in featured roles. Who would have guessed one class could produce so much success!

Morning finally comes and we head for Memorial Drive with our memories and expectations bright. Our trip is semi-official, as a bright panel of young consultants from Washington is with us. We all are returning there together, and our remembrances will make our trip a short one. Still, to have Daniel LaFratta, Bill Leombruno, Richard McAuliffe, Paul O'Meara and Salvatore Scibetta honored guests at RHS seems funny!

It has been so long since we've seen the old building—new, when we were students! Four floors now—and elevators for the softer, young generations!

Raymond Byam the operator, brings us to David Brown, the principal. He is so busy that William Dillon, assistant principal, takes us on our tour. One surprise after another: Judy Harlow, conducting a gym class, Doris Christensen head of the Art Department, and Ruth Wilbur responsible for the delicious aroma drifting up the corridor from 162.

Naturally the Business Department draws our secretarial notice and so does Virginia Kangiser, head of the department! We congratulate the school committee's good choice of teachers as we see Mary Lou Toffolini teaching Shorthand, Rosalie Hanson: Typing, Anne Freehery; English, Jury MacDonald: Business Administration and Marilyn McNulty: Bookkeeping.

Junior High Students are lucky—more stars of "58" dispensing knowledge: Lawrence Leavett, Pat LaBrecque, Gloria Mello and Sandra Schneider.

And what's this? John Anderson, the superintendent of schools and his assistant, John Baldner are both dictating at once to Judy Doherty, their harrassed secretary, as we peek in at the tinted glass office on the roof.

There is one more thing we must know before we go: The fabulous RHS band, what has become of it under its new director Bruce Anderson? An assembly program is our answer. On stage in the dim auditorium we remember so well, stand Judy LaFarge, John Rozen, Paul Shea, Bruce Fletcher and John Cohen, on leave from The Boston Symphony Orchestra Tour in Europe to make a presentation to their old band: The highest award in the State.

As the class of '78 and the younger classes thunder their applause, we step out of the assembly, and out of our past with a wonderful conviction of the worth of our years in this same school. As each new class comes across that stage, down these halls, laughing up from gym, racing out to the bus, the same spirit we knew goes on. And the future holds out its hand to each as it did for us, a future where memories are cornerstones and dreams come true.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Row 1: Barbara Traverse, Judy Johnston, Mary Webber, Armand Lienard, Paul Daly, Frank Esposito, Jacqueline Anderson, Martha Bosworth, Edith Leahy.

Learning Through Fun, Activities At R.H.S.

One of our biggest "prides" in a yearful of boasts is our Student Council. Having won national recognition, the R.H.S. Student Council has a place apart in the salutes from the Oracle. With its only purpose—our good, and the qualifications of its members to work unceasingly for that purpose, the result has been a better school for us all. Remember the lunch periods we nearly saw cut from under our greedy eyes until the SC members became our "memories", giving up their own time to stand guard in the cafeteria, reminding us of our duties and saving us from a fate worse than death! Remember the Citizens of the Month, the Smooth Days, the hundred dollar Student Government Scholarship, Good Government Day and all the small crisis of School life where an SC member wrestled with the problem, and solved it for the good of the school.

Kevin Wallace, heading a good board of officers, William Kelly, vice-president, Richard Szum, secretary and Thomas Gallagher, treasurer, leaves another great record behind, confident that the tradition of service and good-citizenship that makes our Student Council the stand-out association of the school, will grow with the years. To Mr. Santry, all the seniors leave a vote of thanks for an example of unselfishness, leadership and the kind of citizenship that Student Council teaches us to try to attain.

Randolph has always been music-minded. From Mr. Gilgan at the organ to the newest member of the junior high band, we have all shared in the glories and satisfaction of a real atmosphere of progress in music education. It is this note of progress that the class of '58 will particularly remember because this was a year of FIRSTS in music for RHS.

Our new dance band, composed of fifteen members performed at the concert at Hull High School, the Christmas Assembly, the Winter Concert, Winter Concert Assembly, Dramatic Festival at John Hancock Hall in Boston and at the Senior Dance on April 11. A big hit with the whole school and all its audiences, the dance band brought new laurels to the music department and a whole new interest in music to the student body.

Another FIRST is our five-member German Band who surprised and delighted audiences at the Hull Concert, the Spring Concert and the South Shore Music Festival. But it was a double musical bombshell when Randolph presented its first Winter Concert, an unsurpassed success and its new group, the Clarinet Ensemble on the same night. The Ensemble went on to perform at the Winter Concert Assembly and at the South Shore Festival.

Of course none of this would be possible without the baton behind the scenes, Mr. Raymond Stewart, our director who fosters the progress, polishes the ideas, and practices each faction of our musical organizations with only one ideal; perfection. Seniors, looking back on the really big occasions of '58, find that their band and chorus were there for nearly every one!

Remember those formations at the football games with the twirlers out in front? Remember, especially the Thanksgiving Game when the band marched round and round the Sputnik to the tune of Around the World? The chorus singing carols at the Christmas Assembly, the "new driver" pantomime at the Winter Concert, the Concert at the Brockton Veteran's Hospital, successes in so many different places:

Spring Concert, South Shore Music Festival, SEMSBA Music Festival, Randy Day and the Memorial Day Parade—they are all a part of the senior picture and now at the end of the road they are a big part of our last senior celebrations: baccalaureate and graduation. The music department says goodbye, goodluck and thanks to its departing seniors; and promises that their spirit and hard work will still be a part of the progress yet to come.

DRAMATICS

Fifty-eight was a year for champions! Our dramatic club, whose reputation for good theater has been well known since the club's inception years ago, under Miss Eleanor Kelley, went on to bring another slice of glory to RHS. It was March eighth; the place, Hingham; the occasion, The Massachusetts High School Drama Festival Preliminaries. Randolph, under the expert touch of its hard-working drama coach and director, Mr. Edward Byrne, entered a one-act play called "The Last Wife." And won! Frank Roberts, senior, placed in the Regional Cast, a high honor for individual performers, and Randolph went on to take part with thirteen other schools in the State Drama Festival, sponsored by The Boston Globe, The Massachusetts Headmasters Association and the Drama Guild. The cast of the winning play included: George

Sullivan and Frank Roberts, seniors, Lorraine Wilbur and Blanche Purvee.

Earlier productions, equally successful on a local level, were "Yes and No," an autumn comedy event, and "What Price Murder?" the one-act companion piece to "The Last Wife," both of which were given in February.

Seniors have double thanks as they graduate: to Miss Kelley, their former director who gave them their first training and to Mr. Byrne who has given the fine direction, leadership and inspiration of the last two years, and provided the challenge that led them to their greatest success.

Mr. White, originator of THE RANDY AWARDS, Mr. Gilgan, principal and chief backer of the project, Mr. Polio who supervised the design of the original statuette by Loretta Jackson '56 and directs the creation of each year's statuette.

THE STORY OF RANDY

It is a warm, May morning. For once, the crowded assembly hall is silent, almost breathless. On stage there stands an impressive little pyramid of ceramic statuettes, backed by tiers of empty chairs. It is for these, the as yet unclaimed symbols of success, the hoped for seats of honor that silence, anticipation and hundreds of hopeful students have come to see. It is RANDY DAY at Randolph High.

No Oscar or Emmy ever meant more. No TV or Movie Star ever suffered more suspense, was feted with more ceremony or applauded to his supreme moment more gloriously. For this is the idea of Randy, as initiated by Mr. Alvin White of the faculty four years ago.

Teachers and administrators for many years have deplored the lack of glamor that went with hard work in academic fields. No one could begrudge the muddied halfback his trophy, the twirler her baton or the thespian his night before the footlights. But what for the student, the boy or girl who consistently comes out on top in the classes? We think RANDY is the answer.

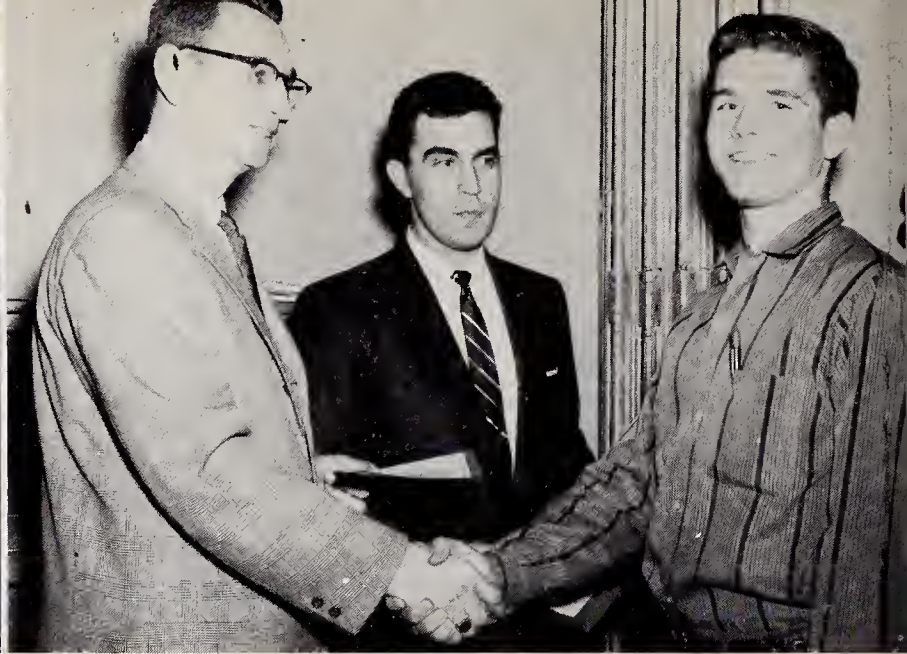

The big assembly, the nominations by all the teachers, the secret envelope opened before the waiting student body, the slim little statuette and the seat among the other winners in a circle of champions: this is our tribute to those among us who never forget what school is for. Although the statuette itself is for the winner in each field, each and every nominee has won a Randy in his heart.

For it is our respect as a student body, as a school, for the student who uses his most precious gift, his intelligence, for life's best reward, learning, that is the spirit of these awards. And that is the story of RANDY.

Keeping Up With The Space Age SCIENCE FAIR

Roland Evans with Model Gas Turbine.

Perry DeFelice explains cosmic radiation to Miss Fitzgerald.

In a year when the entire world has become science conscious, when the people of our nation and all nations are looking to the chemists, biologists and physicists of the future with mingled hope and dread, we are proud to have been a part of our high school's lease on the future.

Science Fair Day is more than a fine display of the intellectual wares of our young scientist. It is the culmination of hours of ideas, work, research and ingenuity of the science students, it is the moment when the science teachers see the results of their teaching, preparation, driving and, probably, prayers.

March 26, 1958 and the gym is the nucleus of school life. Mr. Vincent Joyal, Chairman of the Science Fair is exhausted but triumphant after registering exhibits, organizing the layout, appointing committees, and judges. Student stay beside their projects, breathless and intent, ready to prove that they have met the requirements for:

1. Scientific approach to the problem,
2. Scientific advancement,
3. Ingenuity of construction, technical skill and workmanship,
4. Thoroughness.

Co-Chairman, Miss Margaret Grant and assistants Mr. Lloyd Clark, Mr. Robert Quegan, Mr. Paul Lehtinen, and Mr. William Garnett are working until the last minute to make our scientific event of the year the focal point of town and school interest that it must be.

Flashbulbs from Mr. Samuel Polio's photography class, elaborate programs set up, organized, typed and duplicated for days in Miss Winifred Brennan's business classes, and teachers and parents encountered pacing up and down the aisles examining, exclaiming, and absorbed, this is the atmosphere of a future in the making.

This is Randolph High School's Spectacular: "Futures Unlimited."

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

For Academic Achievement

One of the most solemn moments of our school year, and the one of greatest achievement for many of our students is the springtime and light induction of the members of The National Honor Society dedicated to Courtesy, Leadership, Scholarship and Service. These girls and boys who have won their right to membership through the attainment of high level academic standards are an example to all of us. The Oracle salutes and congratulates them, Randolph's Honor Students.

FOOTBALL

The ORACLE salutes the Randolph High Football team of 1957. We thought the '56 record of three losses and six wins put us near the top. Fifty seven sent us the whole way: Conference Championship.

We knew RHS was up there where it belonged when the whole town turned out to see the dedication of the beautiful new Memorial Field, built and dedicated in honor of the Randolph boys who had given their lives in bigger contests, for their country. We beat Middleboro 19 to 0 that day, and Whitman and Rockland in fast succession.

Everyone will remember fifty-seven as the big "Flu Year:" Saturday's game, Foxboro and Silverlake games postponed at the last minute, and Randolph's winning streak snapped by Plymouth! The comeback with RHS 28 and Abington 2 and the victory of the re-scheduled Silverlake game made the difference. Even though our Turkey Day troubles with traditional foe, Oliver Ames, spoiled our dinners, RHS had the Conference Championship, and that was the Football Story of the Year.

Special Oracle salute—the salute and cheering memory of every football fan in the student body—go to our graduates: All-Scholastic Dave Merrick, tackle and co-capt., and All-Scholastic Jim Fitzgerald, half-back; to Don Dixon, Don McNeil, Fred Boomhower, Bill Leombruno, Jackie Hunt and co-capt. Armand Lienard.

And what salute, no matter how loud or long could match the record these boys have made, or the respect and devotion they have for the men who stood behind them, guiding, encouraging and challenging them to the best victory of them all. The Oracle congratulates, and says thank you, to Head Coach Saba and to Coach Bernado, builders of champions.

Randolph stops Westwood's passing attack.

Pile-up!

First down.

BASKETBALL

We had the spirit and the determination. We even had a new Coach, Mr. John Silk whose record on the court is impressive and whose coaching was patient and thorough. But we didn't have the victories. Not this year, anyway. Paul Daly, Capt. and Don McNeil were the only senior lettermen who returned to the team this season. Other players were Joe Garvey and Bill Leombruno, seniors, Dick Pontius, Bob Brodil, and Howard Arey, juniors, Phil Carlino, Joe Zapustas, Rodger Kelliher and Bob DeSimone, sophomores. Coach Silk is looking ahead to next season when these underclassmen, more experienced in working together, can begin to chalk up the wins.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

TRACK

In 1957, we had only a small showing for track. A very few pointmakers, such as Francis Tower, Armand Lienard, Phil Carlino, John Hunt, William Galen, Peter O'Kane, and Ronald Barber, competed in as many events as possible to bring Randolph's name into focus as a coming track school. This year, with our new cinder track, the team is recruiting from other sports. Mr. Chrisom expects shotputters, discus throwers, javelin throwers, and runners from football. Basketball will contribute high jumpers, broad jumpers, pole vaulters and runners. Positions for track and field events will be chosen from competitions. Look for track headlines in next year's Oracle.

TENNIS

First Row: Billy Kelly, Paul Daly, Joseph Caulfield, Armand Lienard, Jim Fitzgerald, John Rozen, Robert Brodil, Phil Carlino.

Second Row: Richard Pontius, Rodger Gale, Joseph Garvey, Gary Cassagrande, James Larson, Bobby Gale, Mr. O'Brien.

BASEBALL

As the Oracle goes to press, the baseball season is just beginning to shape up. The 1958 squad has good reason to aim for a championship this year after having an even league record of seven wins and seven losses last season. In 1957 Randolph literally missed out on the playoffs by a flip of the coin.

This year the baseball team will be under the direction of our new baseball coach, Mr. Francis O'Brien. He will have an experienced team to work with which is another good omen for this season.

Returning lettermen will be: Bob Brodil and Joe Caulfield at third base; Butch Bennett at second base; Joe Garvey at first base; Jim Fitzgerald, shortstop; Bill Kelly and Armand Lienard, catchers; Paul Daly, John Rozen, Gary Cassagrande, and Phil Ruddick, pitchers; Dick Pontius, Jim Larson, Phil Carlino, Rodger and Robert Gale, fielders. Others who will be eligible are Ted Abbott, Bob DiSimone, Richie Szum, Jim Robinson, Joe Zapustas and Bernie White.

GIRL'S BASKETBALL

Ten Straight Undeclared Season

The girls can do it too! What team can beat this record: ten straight, an undeclared season!

This is the story of the girl's basketball team of '57-'58. Like all other teams it was made up of six girls, some tall, some short, but all of them having more heart and spirit than any coach could hope for. It was this heart and this spirit that carried them through the season, winning every game, even after a case of pneumonia robbed them of their high scoring forward, Alma Robinson.

The first three games were almost too easy. Randolph 57—Canton 23, Randolph 34—Westwood 27, Randolph 67—Hingham 47. But the rest were hard fought with every bit of fire and spirit that could be mastered for each occasion.

This was truly a team. Six girls working for one goal, for one school, with one heart. Joan Vaughn, captain and four years veteran scored 226 points for the season. In her six games, Alma Robinson scored 162. And, Carol Post, a newcomer to varsity play scored 103 in the scorebook, and a thousand in the confidence of her coach who knew all along that she could do it. Guafds, Judy Watmough, Dottie Thompson, and Irene Sears held back the high scorers of every opponent with superb defensive play and sometimes only with courage.

With her players, the seniors thank Mrs. Ross whose fiery coaching, unmatched enthusiasm and complete conviction that this was The girls' basketball team of the century, helped so much to bring girls' sports, and RHS, another laurel wreath of victory.

Our fighting little field hockey captain, Carol Monti, and our high-scoring basketball captain, Joannie Vaughn—proud letter-girls of '58.

FIELD HOCKEY

Lone senior and Captain Carol Monti had a fight against impossible odds with the field hockey team this year. Memories of the League Championship only two years ago seemed mighty dim as Asian flu warred on the hockey team and three out of six games were cancelled by opponents. The contests that did materialize were ghostly affairs, hard fought and peppered with unexpected drop-outs, substitutions and absenteeism. The season's record: three losses. The team's verdict: Wait till next year. We're taking vitamins.

Spring brings showers, flowers and dust-covered girls out in back of the school, faithfully chasing the long ones. Softball gets out the largest number of recruits for girls' sports. As the Oracle goes to press, the fifty-eight season is only a determined gleam in the eyes of those who set that record: eight wins—two losses of the fifty-seven season. Mrs. Ross sees her full varsity returning and a healthy supplement from the Freshmen. Good luck from the seniors. Maybe the girls can do it twice in '58.

SHOPPING FOR A JOB?

CHECK WHAT YOU WANT:

- ☐ *Good starting salary
with regular raises*
- ☐ Pleasant work with other girls and young men
- ☐ Prestige of a responsible job with a well-known and respected company

If your list shows three checks, then you should check into what the Telephone Company has to offer you. Smart girls are doing it now, before they graduate from high school. Come in and see our employment interviewer soon. You'll enjoy talking with her.

Act now, and you can say with pride, "I'm all set! I'm going to work with the Telephone Company!"

See the Guidance Counselor at your school, and talk first with her about when and where to apply.
